

Heidelberg-Getty Dissertation Workshop

Faculty Lecture Series, Summer Term 2021 | Heidelberg University

In this lecture series, workshop faculty will provide a glimpse of their experiences and practices as researchers of East Asian Art History and Archaeology. Rather than presenting their research findings, five leading scholars will address fieldwork and research challenges. Why and how do scholars work the way they do? Join us to learn more about the ways in which personal experience shapes the careers and approaches of specialists in the field.

Organizers

Prof. Dr. Sarah E. Fraser and
Prof. Dr. Lothar Ledderose

Contact

Dr. Monica Klasing Chen
E-Mail: monica.klasing-chen@zo.uni-heidelberg.de

Zoom-Webinar-ID: 823 8283 9271

Please register in advance to receive the Passcode.

Click to register

Research Practices of Archaeologists and Art Historians

Sunday, August 1

Heidelberg 3:30 pm | U.S. West Coast 6:30 am | Beijing 9:30 pm

Senior Prof. Dr. Lothar Ledderose, Heidelberg Academy of Sciences and Humanities

Fieldwork in China's Mountains and Valleys

Monday, August 2

Heidelberg 4:15 pm | U.S. West Coast 7:15 am | Beijing 10:15 pm

Prof. Dr. Lothar von Falkenhausen, UCLA, Los Angeles

Mutual Accommodations: Archaeology and Art History

Wednesday, August 4

Heidelberg 3:00 pm | U.S. West Coast 6:00 am | Beijing 9:00 pm

Prof. Dr. Melanie Trede, Heidelberg University, CATS

Serendipity, Space, and Stamina: Notes from an Art Historian's Analog Past

Wednesday, August 4

Heidelberg 4:15 pm | U.S. West Coast 7:15 am | Beijing 10:15 pm

Prof. Dr. Lukas Nickel, University of Vienna

A Buddha icon keeping its secret: what to do when research bears inconclusive results

Thursday, August 5

Heidelberg 3:15 pm | U.S. West Coast 6:15 am | Beijing 9:15 pm

Prof. Dr. Sarah E. Fraser, Heidelberg University, CATS

Buddhist Archaeology: Field Research in China's Caves and Temples